Sciritors Wade Hampton and Z. B. Vance spoke at a Democratic ratification ineeting in Staunton, Va., on Monday, and ze are told by the correspondent of the Richmond Disputch that "constant roars of applause were kept up, except when the pathetic appeals of the Sena-tors from the Carolinas to Virginians not to force the hated Republican rule again upon the South brought a solemn hush upon the vast assembly, and some tears to the eyes of Massey."

The handsoms residence of Col. J. T. Robertson, of Abbeville, was entirely consumed by fire on last Tuesday night from an unascertained cause. The d orling was built in 1850 by the late Oat, J. Foster Marshall, at a coat of some twelve thousand dollars, and had recently been repaired at considerable expense. It was one of the handsomest residences in Abbeville. There was only four thousand dollars of insurance on it, so that Col. Robertson is a very heavy loser. A considerable amount of Hon, A. Burt's personal property, which was in one of the rouns, was also destroyed.

TANNER STILL HOLDS OUT.

A dispatch from New York dated August 3, gives the following particulars of Dr. Tanner's fast. His task will be finished at 12 o'clock on Saturday next:

His features are pinched and drawn, and his eyes look heavy. His temper is irritable, and crowds of spectators annoy him. His usual drive failed to benefit him, and he says he will give up going out until the end of his fast. During the morning he drank at intervals less than half a pint of croton and mineral water. He is now on his thirty-seventh day. The record of Dr. Hacher, who was one of the watchers, last night says "I don't yet find anything alarming in Dr. Tanner's condition, and believe from the strength developed when he walks, moves and speaks, that if he abstains from irritating drinks, like mineral water, he may fast four or five days more—that is up to Saturday." His strength seems to leave him during the early morning hours, and at this time the watchers are doubly careful lest signs of collapse should beginto show themselves. At one time during last night there were no less than ten physicians in the gallery. Tanner seemed to wish for all the air he could possibly get, and had all the windows open. A refreshing breeze during the night was enjoyed very much by him. ished at 12 o'clock on Saturday next :

GOVERNOR'S ISLAND, NEW YORK CITY, July 29. ] Gentlemen: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of July 13, 1880, apprising me formally of my nomination to the office of President of the United States by the National Democratic Convention lately assembled in Cincinnati. I accept the nomination with a grateful appreciation of the confi-

The principles enunciated by the Convention are those I have cherished in the

THE 13TH, 14TH AND 15TH AMENDMENTS to the Constitution of the United States embodying the results of the war for the Union are inevitable. If called to the Presidency I should deem it my duty to resist, with all of my power, any attempt to impair or evade the full force and effect of the Constitution, which in every saticle, section and amendment is the supreme law of the land. The Constitutions forms the basis of the government of the United States. The powers granted by it to the Isgislative, executive and judicial departments define and limit the authority of the General Government. Powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution nor prohibited by it to the States belong to the States respectively or to the popular general; and the State governments, each acting in its own sphere without trenching upon the lawful jurisdiction of the others, constitute the Union. This Union, comprising the General Government with general powers and Union are inevitable. If called to the

This is the Union our fathers made and which has been respected abroad, and so beneficient at home. Tried by blood and fire it stands to-day a model form of free normal reversions, as model form of free normal reversions, as model form of free normal reversions, as the best and will continue to be the admiration of the world. May we not say nearly in the world. May we not say nearly in the world. May we not say nearly in the world of Washington, "the unity of government which constitutes us one people is justly dear to us; it is the main pillar in the edifice of our real independence, the sur, ort of our peace, safety and presperit; and of that liberty so highly prize and intend at every hazard to preserve."

But no form of government, however carefully devised, no principles, however sound, will protect the rights of the people, unless the administration is faithful and efficient.

and efficient.

It is a vital principle in our system that neither fraud nor force must be allowed to subvert the rights of the people. When fraud, violence or incompetence controls, the noblest constitutions and wiscat laws are useless. THE BAYONET is not a fit instrument for collecting the votes of free men. It is only by a full vote, free ballot and fair count, that the people can rule in fact as required by the theory of our government. Take this formation away and the whole structure faits.

foundation away and the whole structure fails.

Public office is a trust, not a bounty bestowed up a the holder. No incompetent or dishonest person should ever as currented with it, or if appointed they should be promptly ejected. The basis of any substantial, practical sivil service reform must be established by the people in filling elective offices. If they fix a high standard of qualifications for office and starply reject the corrupt and incompetent, his result with be decisive in governing the action of the sarryants whom they entrust with the appointing power.

To Hon. John W. Stevenson, President of Con-vention, Hon. John H. Stockton, Chairman and other Members of the Committee of No-tification:

and other Members of the Committee of Notification:

INDIANAPOLIS, July 30.

Gentlemen: I have now the hour to reply to your letter of the 13th instant informing me that I was unanimously nominated for Vice-President of the United States by the late Democratic National Convention which assembled at Cincinnatt. As foreshadowed in verbal remarks made by me at the time of the delivery of your letter, I have now to say that I accept the high trust, with a realizing sense of its responsibility, and am profoundly grateful for the honor conferred. I accept the nomination upon the platform of principles adopted by the Convention, which I cordially approve, and I accept it quite as much because of my faith in the wisdom and patriotism of the great statesman and soldier nominated on the same ticket for President of the United States. His eminent services to his country, his fidelity to the Constitution, the Union and the laws, his clear perception of correct principles of government as taught by Jefferson; his scrupulous care to keep the military in strict subordination to the civil suthorities; his high regard for civil liberty, personal rights and the rights of property; his acknowledged ability in civil as well as military affairs, and his pure and blameless life, all point to him as a man worthy of the confidence of the people, as not only a brave soldier, great commander, wise statesman and pure patriot, but a prudent, painstaking, practical man of unquestioned honesty. Trusted often with important public duties, faithful to every trust and in the full meridian of a ripe and vigorous manhood, he is, in my judgment, eminently fitted for the highest position on earth—the Presidency of the United States.

Not only is he the right man for the place, but the time has come when the earth—the Presidency of the United States.

Not only is he the right man for the place, but the time has come when the best interests of the country require that the party which has monopolized the executive department of the General Government for the last twenty years should be retired. The continuance of that party in power four years longer would not be beneficial to the public, or in accordance with the spirit of our republican institutions. Laws of entail have not been favored in our system of gov. ament. The perpetuation of property or place in one family or set of men has never been encouraged in this country, and the great and good men who, founded our Republican government and its traditions, wisely limited the tenure of office, and in many ways showed their disapproval of long leases of power.

TWENTY YEARS

of continuous power is long enough, and has already led to irregularities and corruptions which are not likely to be proply exposed under the same party that perpetrated them.

It should not be forgotten that the four last years of power held by that party were procured by discreditable means, and held in defiance of the wishes of the majority of the people. It was a grievous wrong to every votor and our system of self-government which should never be forgotten or forgiven. Many of the men now in office were put there because of corrupt partisan services in thus defeating the fairly and legally expressed will of the majority, and the hypocrisy of the professions of that party in favor of civil service reform was shown by placing such men in office and turning the whole brood of Federal office-holders loose to influence elections. The money of the people taken out of the public treasury by these men for services of ten poorly performed or not peformed at all, being used in vast sums with the knowledge and presumed sanction of the administration to control elections, and even members of the Cabinet are strolling about the country making partisan speeches, instead of being in their departments at Washington discharging the public duties for which they are paid by the people. But with all their cleverness and ability a discriminating public will no doubt read between the lines of theh speeches that their paramount hope and aim is to keep themselves or their satalites four years longer in office. That cand Fork No 2 has not been filled, and, therefore, under the resolution of the Convention these Clubs will each plesse elect a member to represent them on the Executive Committee as soon as possible.

Every member of the Committee is especially urged to be present at the time above indicated.

The States proposed a general; and the States four peneral; and the States governments, each acting in its own sphere without trenching upon the State governments, each acting in its own sphere without trenching upon the State governments, each acting in its own sphere without trenching upon the State governments, each acting in its own sphere without trenching upon the Executive Committee as soon as possible.

Every member of the Committee is especially urged to be present at the time above indicated.

THE STATE GOVERNMENTS

with State powers for purposes local to the States, is a polity, the foundation of the country is comparative proposed to the state should be presented; and the proposed to the state should be prese try and conomy, and God's bountiful harvests, that the country is comparatively prosperous, and not because of anything done by these Federal office-holders. The country is comparatively prosperous, not because of them, but in spite of them. This contest is in fact between the people endeavoring to retain the political power which rightfully buildings to them, and to restore the pure, simple economical, constitutional government of our fathers on the one side, and a hundred thousand Federal office-holders and their backers, pampered with place and power and determined to retain them at all hazards, on the other. Hence the constant assumption of new and dangerous powers by the general government under the rule of the Republican party, the effort, to build up what they call a strong Government, the interference with home rule and the administration of justice in the courts of the several fitstes, the interference with elections through the medium of patic partisan Federal officeholders interested in keeping their party in power, and caring more for that than for fairness in elections. In fact the constant encroachments which have been made by that party upon the clearly reserved rights of the people and States will, if not checked, subvert the liberties of the people and the Government of limited powers created by the fathers, and end in a great consolidated central Government, strong indeed for evil and the overthrow of Republican institutions.

The wise men who founded our Constitution knew the

and the long continuance of political power in the same hands. They knew there was a tendency in this direction in all governments, and consequent danger to Republican institutions from that cause, and took pains to guard against it. The machinery of a strong apartralized general government can be used to pay petuate the same set of men in power from term to term, until it ceases to be a Roppblic, or is such only in name, and the tendency of the party now in power in that direction, as shows in various ways besides the willingness recently manifested by a large number of that party to elect a President an unlimited number of thines, is quite apparent, and must easistly thinking people that the time has come when it will be safest and best for that party to be retires. But in resisting the anoroschments of the General Government upon the reserved rights of the people and States, I wish to be distinctly understood as favoring a proper exercise by the General Government of the General Government of the Constitution the encroschment upon the constitution of both the chaseal Government. Or interference with the proper exercises of the powers rightly belonging to it, and under the Constitutions must be measured. With the proper exercises of the power, what has has always been the position of both the candidates on the Democratic Presidential ticket. It is acquiesced to every where, and is now and finally and forever satial governments of the war. penditures, and the liberties of the people will be protected by a government of law and order administered strictly in the interests of all the people and not of corporations and privileged classes. I do not doubt the discriminating justice of the people and their capacity for intelligent self government, and therefore do not doubt the success of the Democratic ticket. Its success would bury beyond resurrection.

THE SECTIONAL JEALOUSIES AND HA-which have so long been the chief stock in trade of pestiferons demagogues, and in no other way can this be so effectually accompliched. It would restore harmony and good feeling between all sections and make us in fact as well as in name one people. The only rivalry then would be in the race for the development of material prosperity, elevation of labor, enlargement of human rights, promotion of education, morality, religion, liberty, order and all that would tend to make us the foremost nation of earth in the grand march of human progress.

I am, with great respect, very truly yours,
